

Human Values

Humans are not valued in money,
Mind you, that would be funny.

Italians used to be in Lire,
Nowadays in Euros they're dearer.
Likewise in Malta,
As theirs, they did alter.

Some people are worthless,
However my husband is priceless,
His worth cannot be measured.
Considering how much he's treasured.

My boss said, "You're worth your weight in gold."
Then I was told,
"You're not in line,
To reach the next spine."
So I guess I've been undersold,
'cos I've reached my pay threshold.
